Stampin' Up! © Artistic Leaves Fault Line Card Instructions

- To begin, cut a piece of Old Olive to a standard card base. Grab a piece of Basic White cardstock and run it through the Stampin' Cut & Emboss Machine with the Sunflower 3D Embossing folder.
- Creating this fault line card is pretty simple. After cutting my embossed Basic White and Cajun Craze to 3" x 5-1/2", I tore the pieces in half and then adjusted the size I wanted by trimming the smooth sides down. Leave the DSP at 3" as this is the solid layer of the line.
- On the Cajun Craze I added a little bit of color to the edges with a blending brush and Cajun Craze ink to give it a pop. I also added a little Old Olive ink to the Basic White torn side for added color.
- Attach the DSP to the center of the Old Olive base. Build your fault line up by adding the Cajun Craze and then embossed Basic White. If you want more depth to the layers, you can attach them with dimensionals instead of glue.
- Attach a piece of 4" x 5-1/2" Basic White cardstock to the inside of the card and set the card base aside.
- To create the leaves stamp the large leaf outline with Pecan Pie, stamp the textured large leaf with Cajun Craze. Stamp the small leaves with Old Olive. One of mine, the texture is stamped with Cajun Craze.
- If you look closely at the leaves, they all of a bit of yellow in them. I did this by dipping my blender pen in my Darling Duck stamp pad and brushed it through the entire leaf. I really like how it smoothed the look down on the leaf in the end.
- The sentiment is stamped in Mossy Meadow. Fussy cut out the sentiment and the leaf. Attach the word "Grateful" to the large leaf. Attach "for you" to a small leaf. Attach the large leaf to the center of the card with dimensionals. Attach the small leaf with the sentiment to the lower right corner also with dimensionals and a little bit of Linen Thread behind it. Attach the remaining leaf to the card front with liquid glue.
- Stamp a leaf on the inside for a bit of decoration and on the envelope as well. Add a little bit bling around the leaves and your all done.
- ENJOY!!
